Hospitals in Japan offered free journal access by Nature Publishing Group

Message from Steven Inchcoombe, Managing Director, NPG
13 April 2011

Dear colleagues,

The scientific and medical communities have been quick to offer practical support to colleagues in Japan affected by the recent earthquake and tsunamis. Nature Publishing Group (NPG) would like to make its own small contribution to those practical efforts, by providing free access to 16 relevant clinical journals to hospitals and research institutions in Japan.

Today we initiated either seamless IP access or password access to these journals to over 230 hospitals in Japan. Arrangements have been made to provide access to the 144 hospitals in the National Hospital Organization and 94 hospitals of the Japan Red Cross Society.

We continue to approach large hospital groups in Japan, offering access to these journals free of charge until the 30th September 2011.

The journals include the eight clinical Nature Reviews journals, and academic and society journals which publish content related to the ongoing situation in Japan. Relevant content in the journals include studies on trauma dialysis in earthquake zones, published in Kidney International, and research on radiation injuries.

The journals are:

Nature Reviews Cardiology
Nature Reviews Clinical Oncology
Nature Reviews Endocrinology
Nature Reviews Gastroenterology & Hepatology
Nature Reviews Nephrology
Nature Reviews Neurology
Nature Reviews Rheumatology
Nature Reviews Urology
American Journal of Gastroenterology
Bone Marrow Transplantation
British Journal of Cancer
Journal of Investigative Dermatology
Kidney International
Lab Animal
Leukemia
Oncogene

NPG is pleased to join other content providers who are providing free access to researchers and clinicians in Japan. We hope that access to these journals will be helpful in patient care and research.

We encourage institutions and hospitals in Japan who wish to gain access to these titles to contact us at institutions@natureasia.com.
