

Nature Reviews Neuroscience

FOCUS: Providing neuroscientists and medical professionals complete coverage of all aspects of modern neuroscience. Nature Reviews Neuroscience is the leading monthly journal among Neuroscience titles, attracting readers from all areas of this ever-expanding discipline. This journal is the first port of call for neuroscientists and medical professionals in academia, clinical research or industry who share an interest in recent progress related to cellular and molecular aspects of neuronal development, cognition, behavior, and disorders of the nervous system.

"Highest quality results, very clear presentation/illustration, description of results/methods, always the brand new findings from leading groups in Neuroscience."

Senior Scientist, Industry/Corporation, Germany

SUBJECTS COVERED

As with Nature Neuroscience, cellular and molecular neuroscience, computational neuroscience, development of the nervous system, disorders of the brain, higher cognition and language, regulatory systems sensory, motor systems and behavior.

ONLINE USER SURVEY DATA

GEOGRAPHIC BREAKDOWN
Europe	41%
US	37%
Asia Pacific	13%
ROW	9%

JOB TITLE
Senior Scientist	60%
Scientist	33%
Senior Business Manager	4%
Other	4%

PLACE OF WORK
College/University	71%
Publicly Funded Research Institute	7%
Governmental	6%
Industry/Corporation	6%
Other	10%

TOP PRODUCTS PURCHASED
Antigens & Antibodies
Computer Software
Enzymes & Reagents
Cell Culture Equipment

80% of print readers read both print and online.

18% of total readers work in departments with purchasing budgets of over $1,000,000.

62% of total readers involved in the product purchasing process.

*2007 Journal Citation Report (Thomson Reuters, 2008)