Figure S2 Wagering versus performance in aware and unaware conditions in the artificial grammar task.

Advantageous wagering versus correct classification before (implicit) and after (explicit) the rules of the grammar were revealed. Each participant contributed one data point in each condition. The solid lines are the linear regressions for the two data sets. The dashed line of slope 1 represents the percentage of advantageous wagering expected with full awareness.