FOR PATIENTS WITH RESTRICTED JAW MOTION

The OraStretch Press distributed by Total TMJ is the perfect solution for patients struggling with restricted range of motion in their jaw.

When used regularly, this device can improve your patients' range of jaw motion, nourish and strengthen their joint tissues, and reduce temporomandibular joint (TMJ) pain. This appliance has the ability to open 20% wider when compared to other jaw rehabilitation systems. In addition, the OraStretch press is small and light, and patients aren't required to spend additional money on replacement pads, as they are available free of charge.

The ability to provide your patients with a treatment option which is proven to prevent and treat trismus, along with a range of temporomandibular issues will be incredibly reassuring, and could benefit your patients hugely.

DOWNLOAD A FREE ACTIVITY-BASED WELLBEING TOOLKIT

This World Mental Health Day (Monday 10 October 2022), Dr Mahrukh Khwaja, dentist and positive psychologist, together with Unilever's oral care brand Zendium, launched a new, activity-based Wellbeing Toolkit to help address the mental health challenges within dentistry.

It is based on the well-established PERMA-H model, which focuses on six components of wellbeing to help people feel happier, energised at work, connected to others, have a sense of purpose and accomplish goals aligned to their values.

Dr Khwaja said: 'The Wellbeing Toolkit for Dental Professionals can be thought of as a self-intervention: your guide to help you integrate the different ingredients of wellbeing, and increase positive feelings, positive thoughts and positive actions in the process.'

Unilever is delighted to have been able to partner with Dr Khwaja on this important topic.
