This Article contains a typographical error in the Methods section under subheading ‘Image processing and automated supraglacial lake identification and mapping’ where,

$$NDWI = \frac{Green - NIR}{Green + NIR}$$

where ‘Green’ is Band 3 of the Sentinel imagery and Band 3 of the Landsat 8 imagery, and ‘NIR’ is Band 4 of the Sentinel imagery and Band 5 of the Landsat imagery” should read:

$$NDWI = \frac{Green - NIR}{Green + NIR}$$

where ‘Green’ is Band 3 of the Sentinel imagery and Band 3 of the Landsat 8 imagery, and ‘NIR’ is Band 8 of the Sentinel imagery and Band 5 of the Landsat imagery”
