

A NEW ERA OF ROTARY FILES

WaveOne, Dentsply's new system of rotary endodontic files, uses the strength of M-Wire NiTi, created using a thermal treatment process.

M-Wire NiTi files offer greater flexibility and respect the canal's true morphology while reducing the chance of cyclic fatigue and file separation. Practitioners will often only require one rotary single-use NiTi file to complete an entire procedure.

The WaveOne system is also simple and easy to use; able to prepare teeth quickly, safely and reliably;

a highly cost effective system; and created by industry experts with years of experience.

Reader response number 60

SUPPLIES AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

Admor has extended their online catalogue to include over 20,000 new office products, meaning practice managers need look no further to find everything their surgery needs, all in one convenient place.

Admor can offer your practice a way to save on a wealth of office supplies, from paper and printing materials to kettles, cleaning products and even crafts and business gifts, whether you're an NHS, private or mixed surgery. Registration on Admor's site is free and provides instant access to thousands of office products at the click of a mouse.

You can also benefit from monthly billing, next day delivery, special offers and exclusive discounts. Dedicated customer service agents are happy to help you order over the phone if you prefer.

Reader response number 61

EVERYTHING YOU EVER NEED

Henry Schein Minerva's compact KaVo Primus 1058 Treatment Centre is specifically designed according to your areas of speciality and fits into even the smallest of surgeries.

Available from as little as £10,700, the KaVo Primus 1058 ensures everything you could ever need from a treatment centre is directly at hand.

Those who offer prophylaxis or orthodontic treatments will appreciate the PROPHYcenter and ORTHOcenter that this compact system delivers, providing a good quality working environment. If digital is the way forward for your practice, then you can choose the fully multimedia-prepared version.

Other features include outstanding ergonomics, functionality and reliability for both clinicians and patients including left and right handed versions, an optional swing arm function, a bracket table and a height adjustable chair base for treating children.

Reader response number 62

SAFE PATHOGEN CONTROL

Dentomycin periodontal gel offers clinicians a safe, effective way to control the pathogens responsible for periodontal disease. Applied directly to dental pockets, Dentomycin leads to a marked reduction in bacterial infection as well as decreased tissue inflammation, thus helping gum tissue return to health and reconnect to teeth.

Dentomycin contains 2% minocycline, allowing for targeted antibiotic treatment at the disease site. When used in conjunction with root planing and scaling, clinical studies have shown that Dentomycin can reduce pocket depths by up to 42% in just three months.

Reader response number 63

PERIODONTAL EXPERTISE FOR MAIDSTONE

Kent Implant Studio in Maidstone is well equipped to accept referrals ranging from single tooth replacements to full arch reconstructions and has now added a periodontist to their team, Dr Elena Sanz.

Dr Sanz has a Masters in Periodontology, Prostheses and Implants and has worked as a periodontist and prosthodontist in Barcelona, Harley Street and Reading. She has also lectured on implants and prosthetics to general dental practitioners at the Harley Street clinic.

In May 2009 Dr Sanz received a grant from the Spanish Society of Periodontics to develop a systematic review and meta-analysis of periodontal maintenance, which will be published by the Cochrane Collaboration.

Reader response number 64