DON'T LIMIT YOUR RESOURCES

You don't have to lose patients if your expertise does not cover a specific treatment. Simply refer them to The London Smile Clinic.

It can take a significant amount of time, equipment, training and money to offer specialist treatments such as complex orthodontics or implantology. The London Smile Clinic works as part of your team to provide specialist dental treatment through advanced skills and state-of-the-art technology.

Each patient will receive a five star experience, before returning to your practice to continue with any follow-up treatment or routine check-ups. So don't hold back – see how The London Smile Clinic can assist by calling today. Call 020 7255 2559 or visit www.londonsmile.co.uk/refer.

SPECIALIST SUPPORT AND GUIDANCE

The Dental World, just like so many dentists, seems to be always on its feet and never stands still.

With over twenty years' experience dealing with the legal and commercial challenges facing our dentist clients, QualitySolicitors Burn & Company are familiar with providing specialist support and guidance for not just the sale and acquisition of dental practices but also partnership or co-expense sharing matters; associate agreements; employment matters; GDS contracts and PDS agreements; and commercial contracts, as well as the provision of legal advice for wills and powers of attorney with provision for business continuation, family matters and residential or commercial property issues. For more information contact Graeme Burn, Solicitor & Director, QualitySolicitors Burn & Company on 01904 615522 or by email at graeburn@qualitysolicitors.com.

QualitySolicitors Burn & Company are members of the Association of Specialist Providers for Dentists (ASPD), a network of professionals who specialise in providing services to the dental profession and upon whom you can rely for experience. They understand your needs as well as the problems and opportunities, so you can be confident of finding the right advice and help whether from accountants, solicitors, valuers and sales agents, banks, financial advisors, insurance brokers, leasing and finance experts, marketing or architects. PIONEERING INNOVATIONS FROM VOCO

VOCO will present several remarkable novelties at the Dentistry Show 2015. Take, for example, Admira Fusion, the world's first restorative material to combine ORMOCER® with nanohybrid technology. In this case, both the fillers and the matrix are based on silicon oxide. Thanks to this 'pure silicate technology', Admira Fusion boasts excellent biocompatibility, extremely low shrinkage, optimal colour stability and a high filler content. The new filling system is complemented by Admira Fusion x-tra, which allows increments of up to 4 mm while displaying the same physical properties.

Further new products include the fast-setting glass ionomer material IonoStar Plus and Clip Flow, a flowable restorative material for temporary restorations. Developed especially for the prophylaxis sector, VOCO is introducing the protective dental cream Remin Pro forte, adding ginger to the range of flavours available in the Remin Pro product range.

In addition to these innovations and the well-known 'Made in Germany' bestsellers, VOCO will also be exhibiting a whole host of offers at amazing bargain prices in its highlights.

For more information, visit VOCO at the Dentistry Show 2015 on stand L55. Alternatively, telephone 07500 769613, email info@voco.com or visit VOCO online at www.voco.com.
