

An easier impression

With the digital revolution in full swing, digital dental impressions have become commonplace in the practice.

Practitioners can stay ahead of the curve with the True Definition scanner from 3M Oral Care. This device is small and easy to use and, thanks to its innovative and state-of-the-art design, effectively minimises distortion and error. This is essential for accurate impressions and makes the True Definition ideal for a wide variety of different indications.

The True Definition scanner is changing the way practitioners are taking impressions in the practice. To find out more, contact the expert 3M Oral Care team today.

Next generation CAD/CAM

Representing the latest generation CAD/CAM intraoral scanner from Carestream Dental, the CS 3600 acquires highly accurate images quickly and easily.

Indicated for use in restorative, orthodontic and implant-borne restorative dentistry, the innovative scanner features high speed continuous scanning for a smooth and simple workflow. With its intelligent matching system it also enables you to freely complete any missing data at any time, while its scan check history allows you to go backward during the live scanning process for an even more refined digital impression.

What's more, the intuitive CS 3600 is easy to use and produces precise HD 3D colour images for superb quality and enhanced diagnostics and treatment planning.

Alongside the cutting-edge technology, you can also use ongoing support from the knowledgeable customer service team at Carestream Dental, helping you truly maximise your investment.

For more information on how the CS 3600 could improve your clinical dentistry and make your life easier, contact Carestream Dental today on 0800 169 9692 or visit www.carestreamdental.co.uk.

Keeping it simple for the New Year

Work can be complicated, but one thing that shouldn't be is ordering your sundries. Dental Sky doesn't believe in confusing promotions or reams of small print. Like a well-known retailer they will never knowingly be undersold and believe in price clarity and simple offers so you know exactly what you're getting and at what price.

The company, partly owned by a self-confessed IT geek, has recently overhauled its website so that the design and layout of the site is even easier to navigate. All customers ordering online automatically receive a 2% discount; a further 2% discount is given for upfront payments. There are several payment options – you can order with your American Express card (if you're collecting Airmiles) or you may prefer the simplicity of PayPal. Some customers even choose to use their Amazon account.

Dental Sky also runs a simple loyalty programme that will reward all customers, whatever the size of their practice. For every £1 spent you earn one Loyalty Point. Within no time even the smallest of practices will have accrued enough points to cash in on some amazing rewards. Chocolates are welcome within most staff rooms (excellent plaque control is a taken!) so there are a number of sweet offerings once you reach 300 points (ie once you've spent £300 in total) such as a Cadbury Treasure Box. If you don't have a Dental Sky account you can open one today: no credit checks, no paperwork and no hassle! Just pop online to register and you're ready to go. Visit www.dentalsky.com.

Taking care of everything education

Henry Schein Dental understands the pressures that dental professionals face trying to keep up-to-date with their CPD obligations. Henry Schein's Education website (hsdeducation.co.uk) provides innovative, practical resources and training courses to help dental professionals fulfil all their training and educational needs.
