Shibboleth access on nature.com

Shibboleth is a 'single-sign in', or logging-in system for computer networks and the internet. It allows people to sign in, using just one 'identity', to various systems run by 'federations' of different organizations or institutions. The federations are often universities or public service organizations.

You can read about Shibboleth here: http://shibboleth.net/

Usually, an Access Management Federation will cover one country, and the universities in the country will be members of the federation. NPG will need to set up compliance with each federation separately.

Once Shibboleth has been made available for a territory, your site license account administrator will receive an email from us.

To access NPG journal content via Shibboleth:

1. Go to www.nature.com and click on the ‘login’ link (top right):

2. At the login screen, select ‘Login via your institution’:
3. Select the correct country from the dropdown list:

![Dropdown list with options for countries such as Austria, China, Germany, Hungary, Japan, Switzerland, and United Kingdom.]

4. Then find your institution in the list of federation members, and click to select:

![Dropdown list with options for institutions such as United Kingdom, United States, and others.]

5. You will then be taken to your familiar University login page:

![University login page with fields for username and password, and options for students, researchers, and staff.]

---

Note: The images are placeholders for the actual visual content of the page.
6. Once logged in there, you will be redirected back to nature.com, where you will have access to your institution’s subscriptions.

Please contact institutions@nature.com if you have any problems.