Subject to the final approval of the Editor-in-Chief, Cancer Research UK agrees to publish the Contribution in BJC and the Authors grant Cancer Research UK a licence as defined below.

1. The licence will run for the full term of copyright in the Contribution and any extensions to that copyright. The licence gives Cancer Research UK the following rights throughout the world:
   (a) the right to publish, reproduce, distribute, display and store the Contribution in all forms, formats and media whether now known or hereafter developed (including without limitation in print, digital and electronic form) throughout the world;
   (b) the right to translate the Contribution into other languages, create adaptations, summaries or extracts of the Contribution or other derivative works based on the Contribution and exercise all of the rights set forth in (a) above in such translations, adaptations, summaries, extracts and derivative works;
   (c) the right to license others to do any or all of the above.

If Cancer Research UK agrees to publish any Supplementary Information with the Contribution, the Authors grant Cancer Research UK the same rights in the Supplementary Information for the same term.

2. The licence granted in Clause 1 above is granted on an exclusive basis.
   (i) Ownership of copyright remains with the Authors. All the Authors named above agree and will make their best efforts to ensure that:
      (a) the Contribution will not be reproduced, in whole or in part, before it has been published in BJC;
      (b) whenever they reproduce the Contribution or extracts from it, the Authors will acknowledge first publication in BJC and include a full reference, DOI, and wherever possible a hyperlink link to the published article on the BJC website.
   (ii) If they comply with Clauses 2(1)(a) and 2(1)(b) above, the Authors shall retain the following non-exclusive rights:
      (c) they may reproduce the Contribution in whole or in part in any printed volume (book or thesis) of which they are the author(s);
      (d) they and any academic institution where they work at the time may reproduce the Contribution for the purpose of course teaching;
      (e) they may reuse figures or tables created by them and contained in the Contribution in other works created by them;

Author Initials..........................
3. Six months after publication of the printed edition of BJC in which the Contribution appears, if and only if, a hyperlink to the Contribution on the BJC website appears with the Contribution, Authors are permitted to post a copy of the peer reviewed version of their Contribution (in Word or TeX format), exactly as accepted for publication:
   • on the Authors’ own website
   • or in the repository of the institution where they currently work
   • or in the archive of the organisation listed in the paper as principal or principal co-funder of the work reported
   • and into PubMed Central (PMC) or one of its mirror sites

4. Twelve months after publication in BJC, the Contribution, as published on the BJC website, will be offered to readers under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-Share-Alike 4.0 licence, subject to the conditions listed at http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/ and will be deposited into PubMed Central (PMC) in its final published form.

5. The Authors warrant and represent that:
   (a) The Author who has signed this Agreement below has full authority to enter into this Agreement on behalf of all of the Authors who have each given their consent for the Contribution to be published in the final form and with the title that has been accepted for publication;
   (b) All of the Authors have given their consent for the format of the names of the Authors and the order in which they appear to be published exactly as is written on this Agreement in the section “Authors” on the first page;
   (c) All persons who are entitled to be considered as Authors of the Contribution are included in the author list and none have been excluded;
   (d) The Authors are the sole authors of and sole owners of the copyright in the Contribution. If the Contribution includes materials of others, the Authors have obtained the permission of the owners of the copyright in all such materials to enable them to grant the rights contained herein. Copies of all such permissions are attached to this licence;
   (e) All of the facts contained in the Contribution are true and accurate;
   (f) Nothing in the Contribution is obscene, defamatory, libellous, violates any right of privacy or infringes any intellectual property rights (including without limitation copyright, patent or trademark) or any other human, personal or other rights of any person or entity or is otherwise unlawful;
   (g) Nothing in the Contribution infringes any duty of confidentiality which any of the Authors may owe to anyone else or violates any contract, express or implied, of any of the Authors, and all of the institutions in which work recorded in the Contribution was carried out have authorised publication of the Contribution.

6. The Authors authorise Cancer Research UK, or its licencee, at its own expense, to take such steps as it considers necessary in the Authors’ name and on their behalf, if it believes that a third party is infringing or is likely to infringe copyright in the Contribution.

7. The Authors hereby consent to the inclusion of electronic links from the Contribution to third-party material wherever it may be located, provided that the nature and purpose of these links have been generally approved by Cancer Research UK and that links will not be made directly from the Contribution on BJC’s website to inappropriate sites, for example those sponsored by the tobacco industry, or to sites known to be linked to such sites.

8. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England without regard to the principles of conflicts of law. The parties hereto submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.
