

for Libraries in Hospitals. Pp. 16. London: Library Association, 1965. 5s.; L.A. members, 3s. 9d.) outlines recommended standards for libraries in hospitals. These cover planning libraries in hospitals, general library service for patients and staff, medical libraries in a regional board area, the functions of the library in a non-teaching hospital and libraries in training schools for nurses. There is a short list of books.

Commonwealth Universities

THE ninth edition, August 1965, of the List of University Institutions in the Commonwealth, first issued by the Association of Commonwealth Universities in 1949 (Pp. 12. London: The Association of Commonwealth Universities, 1965, gratis) is based on information collected in June 1965, and entries altered since the eighth edition (June 1964) are distinguished by a special mark. Full postal addresses are given. Schools of the University of London are listed in an appendix, while a second appendix lists universities in Eire and the Republic of South Africa.

Eye for Isotopes

THE Atomic Energy Authority's film, Eye for Isotopes, has been awarded a Special Diploma at the fourth International Festival of Scientific-Technical Films organized by the Yugoslav society "Nikola Tesla" in Belgrade. Some 200 films were presented at the Festival and only 13 awards were made. Eye for Isotopes, which runs for 27 min, was designed to encourage industrial audiences to consider how radioisotopes might be applied to their processes to save both time and money, by illustrating some of the now well-established techniques. Produced by Clifford Parris and directed by Derek Conrad, of World Wide Pictures, Ltd., and with Dr. John Putman, of the Authority's Wantage Research Laboratories, as technical adviser, Eye for Isotopes was awarded a first prize at the fourth International Film and Television Festival in New York in 1964 and also an Award of Merit at the International Science Film Festival in Toronto, also in 1964.
