

march of dimes/colonel harland sanders award

Through its Colonel Sanders Memorial Campaign, established in 1979, Kentucky Fried Chicken has contributed more than $5.5 million toward March of Dimes programs to prevent birth defects.

In 1986, the March of Dimes sponsored the first award for lifetime achievement in research and education in the genetic sciences. The award is presented during the March of Dimes portion of the Annual Clinical Genetics Meeting.

The March of Dimes is proud to announce the presentation of the 1999 March of Dimes/Colonel Harland Sanders Award for lifetime achievement in the field of genetic sciences to:
