

PositionsAvailable

Position Available Executive Director, American College of Medical Genetics

The American College of Medical Genetics seeks an outstanding person to serve as its first Executive Director. This individual will also serve as Executive Director of the American College of Medical Genetics Foundation. Doctoral degree required, Doctor of Medicine degree desirable. Preference given to Diplomates of the American Board of Medical Genetics. Association management experience also preferred.

Successful candidate will have effective communication skills and demonstrated success in managing a substantial organization. Will develop a business plan, with emphasis on fund-raising, professional development and recognition of medical geneticists. Will implement the College's strategic plan, currently being finalized.

Position located in Metropolitan Washington, DC, and reports to Board of Directors through the President. Salary commensurate with qualifications. Excellent benefits. Part-time applicants considered. Applications accepted until position is filled. Send application with CV and names of 3 professional references to R. Rodney Howell, MD, President, American College of Medical Genetics, c/o FASEB Human Resources Dept., 9650 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, Maryland 20814-3998. Equal Opportunity Employer.