Nature Reviews Neuroscience 16, 213–225 (2015)

On page 220 of this article, the third sentence of the fourth paragraph was incorrect. The sentence should have read 'Furthermore, a preliminary analysis from a study of a state of 'non-dual awareness' (a state of awareness in which perceived dualities, such as the distinction between subject and object, are absent) showed increased functional connectivity of the central precuneus with the dorsolateral PFC'. This has been corrected in the online version of the article.
