Greater comfort and choice

Belmont chairs are available in a choice of upholstery and for those practices wanting to exude luxury there's the Ultrasoft Pro, which now has an additional eight colours added to the range.

As the name suggests, the look and feel of this fabric is lavish and designed with patient comfort in mind. Within this range are 33 colours, enabling you to tailor your colour choices to the rest of your decor.

Whether you want a classic, cool earthy tone, or a warm and vibrant option (if you're big on colour) there's a colour that will suit. New this year (for those in the latter group) is Melon and Rosy Coral. More traditionalists might prefer the calming tones of some of their other new colours such as Agave or Oxford Blue.

Aesthetics obviously need to be matched with functionality, and likewise in this respect, Belmont will not disappoint. You can visit the Belmont showroom to view their chairs virtually. Tours can be taken from any device and you can be accompanied on your tour by one of the sales team if you'd prefer a 'guided tour'.

The showroom is still open for visitors, so if you want to feel the difference in upholstery then you can come in person. You will need to book an appointment for a face-to-face visit, so that all necessary protocols are in place. However, if you're unable to take a seat, come and take a peek, with a digital stroll through their showroom.
