

Interdental cleaning can be a challenge

Do your patients struggle to carry out effective interdental cleaning? Have they described tasks like flossing as 'difficult'?

Why not recommend FLEXI interdental brushes from TANDEX?

Interdental cleaning is essential for maintaining healthy teeth and gums, and FLEXI interdental brushes ensure that patients are able to carry out this crucial step every single day.

Their handles are flexible, and brushes can be bent to the perfect shape – making interdental cleaning easier than ever. Available in 11 different sizes, and ULTRASOFT versions, TANDEX ensures that FLEXI brushes can meet the needs of every patient.

Staying focussed on repetitive tasks

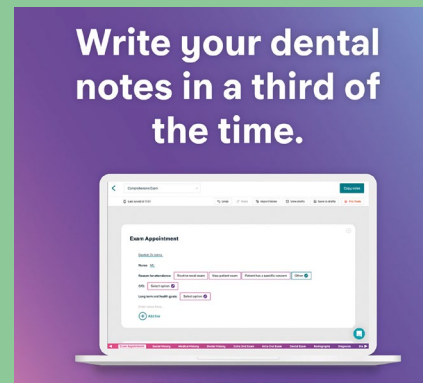

Kiroku is a digital note taking platform which helps clinicians complete notes 60% faster, for more effective complete and accurate clinical notes.

Traditionally, note taking is a very time-consuming task, which can make it challenging to stay focussed, increasing the risk that some important information may be missed. Kiroku offers clinicians dynamic and clickable templates for a wide range of case types to make note taking simple, as well as the option to build your own template, or convert your existing templates for a bespoke experience.

Kiroku also makes it easier than ever to delegate note taking to dental nurses, with a straightforward and logical workflow which follows the structure of the appointment and offers helpful reminders.

Small design features make a big difference

Even the smallest design details can make a difference to what patients think about your dental practice. A clean and well-designed washroom can really elevate patient perceptions of the entire business.

The Signature range from Initial Medical offers various washroom products from soap and hand sanitiser dispensers to air fresheners, toilet seat cleaner, paper towel and toilet paper dispensers. This portfolio is an excellent way of elevating your washroom aesthetic. You can also customise the design to reflect and strengthen your branding at the same time.

To show patients that you go above and beyond to enhance their experience in the practice, be sure not to forget the small details.

Versatility meets simplicity

When providing single-shade restorations, delivering both aesthetics and efficiency is key. The Filtek Universal Restorative from 3M Oral Care is designed to offer excellent ease-of-use when providing restorations.

The award-winning restorative provides a simplified shade range, covering the entire VITA spectrum using only 8 shades. This includes specially formulated options for patients with bleached dentition, and to mask metal or stained dentition.

This simplified shade range is made possible thanks to NaturalMatch technology, which uses nanofillers, proprietary low-stress monomers, and pigments to blend more naturally with dentition.
