

Simplify your air supply

Visitors to the Dental Air stand at the British Dental Conference & Dentistry Show 2023 were interested to find out about Air to the Chair. Air to the Chair is an affordable, no-nonsense way to keep your compressor up to standard and know you're covered in the event of a breakdown.

You'll receive a brand-new, oil-free air compressor that delivers sterile, medical-grade air with next-day installation as standard. For a nominal monthly cost of just £5 per week per chair, continuous maintenance is included as well as certification and PSSR written scheme of examination documentation to keep you compliant with the CQC. No stress, no fuss!

If you want to know more about Air to the Chair from Dental Air, it couldn't be easier. Just visit the easy-to-navigate site and find out how to make your air supply hassle free. For more information, visit www.dentalair.com.

Guidance tailored to your needs

In the modern world, financial advice is essential. However, not all financial advice is equal. It can be difficult to find a firm that will offer you truly independent, bespoke guidance as well as understanding the unique requirements of dentistry as an industry.

That's why professionals across the nation turn to money4dentists.

With decades of experience in the industry, our award-winning team can guide you through any aspect of your financial planning. From finding the best mortgage rates to advising about stocks and shares, when you choose money4dentists you're choosing a firm that will do the best for you and your finances. Plus, as we only work with dentists, you can guarantee that all of our guidance is appropriate for the profession and that we have a deep industry understanding.

Walk to support oral health within the homeless community

Around 274,000 people are currently experiencing homelessness across the UK. Dentsply Sirona UK & Ireland have a mission to support oral health within the homeless community by walking 27,400 steps and raising funds for the dental charity Dentaaid.

On 30 June 2023, Dentsply Sirona UK & Ireland will be walking simultaneously in two locations with panoramic views: Old Windsor to Weybridge in Surrey and Haworth in West Yorkshire!

Dentsply Sirona UK & Ireland are delighted to be organising this event for colleagues, friends, family members, business partners and the wider dental community to help give a smile back to those in need. Miles for Smiles is a brilliant opportunity for team building and having lots of fun.

In the UK, Dentaaid provides free dental care for homeless and vulnerable people. Their mobile dental units visit hostels, day centres and night shelters providing emergency treatment for people who find it difficult to access dental care. Dentaaid also provide dental care in areas where people are struggling to find a dentist and run clinics for refugees and asylum seekers, head and neck cancer patients, veterans, children in areas of social deprivation and victims of domestic violence.

If you are interested in joining Miles for Smiles to raise money for this fantastic cause, visit the following site to register: <https://go.nature.com/3Ief7lw>.

A personal yet always professional service

Among the exhibitors at the British Dental Conference & Dentistry Show (BDCDS) 2023 was Dental Elite, a dental broker and agency with decades of experience in the field.

There was much titter tatter at the show about a slackening of the dental mergers and acquisitions (M&A) market, given the recent announcement of mass disposal by BUPA. However, Phil Kolodynski – Practice Sales Director at Dental Elite – informed delegates that the impact was likely to be more of a ripple than a wave, given the practices that are actually intended to be sold and how this was a positive thing in some respects.

If you missed Dental Elite at this year's event, you can always visit the website or give the team a call to find out more about how the team can help you.
