

Celebrating Jimmy Steele CBE this January

On 30 January, another special event in the Conversations of Steele series will be held to celebrate the life of an exceptional Head of School and Professor of Oral Health Services Research, Jimmy Steele, CBE.

Professor Jimmy Steele's research included work in primary care, clinical trials, health economics and quality of life measurement and he authored or contributed to several books in areas such as restorative and preventative dentistry.¹

He was passionate about discussing the big issues we face in dentistry and as such, four experts have been brought together to discuss the 'Steele Review' and the relevance of its recommendations and the challenges of policy change 15 years on, as we face a crisis in NHS dentistry.

The third Conversations of Steele will be held on 30 January at 18:00 GMT. You are welcome you to watch and comment on an insightful and inspiring conversation between the following experts:

- Prof Stefan Listl, Radboud UMC
- Dr Janet Clarke, University of Birmingham
- Prof Rebecca Harris, University of Liverpool
- Prof Georgios Tsakos, University College London.

The Jimmy Steele Scholarship will also be highlighted, with a special introduction from Jimmy's wife, Professor Katie Bushby.
