It has been brought to the authors' attention that the schematics in Fig. 5b were not described sufficiently clearly in the associated legend. The authors wish to clarify that the two identical flow cytometry plots shown in Fig. 5b depict a schematic representation of the screening process, and do not represent data from the screen. The experiment depicted in the schematic in Fig. 5b yielded data shown in Fig. 5c. The corrected Fig. 5b legend now reads, in part, "schematic representation of the comparative stability profiling screen using the pan-Cullin inhibitor MLN4924..." as amended in the HTML and PDF versions of the article.
