In the version of this article initially published, there was an incorrect statistic in the “Secondary outcomes” section of the Results: “63 of 171” should have read “63 of 571.” In the “Study arms” section of the Methods, “18%” should have read “1.8%” and “11%” should have read “1.1%.”

The affiliation for Peter Sasieni was incorrectly listed as “Kings Clinical Trials Unit, Kings College London, London, UK” instead of “The Cancer Research UK and King’s College London Cancer Prevention Trials Unit, King’s College London, London, UK.”

The acknowledgements were missing the sentence “For part of the trial, F.P. was supported by Cancer Research UK (grant no. C8162/A25356).”

In the version of this article originally published, the organization listed in the ‘Diet and exercise’ row of Table 1 should have been the Centros de Investigación en Red del Instituto de Salud Carlos III, not the European Research Council. In addition, the affiliation shown for Jordi Salas Salvadó (Distinguished Professor of Nutrition at Rovira i Virgili University and Principal Investigator at CIBER-Obn Instituto de Salud Carlos III, Spain) was incomplete. The errors have been corrected in the HTML and PDF versions of the article.
