Information included in the Acknowledgements section of this Article should have been included in the Competing Interests section, which should read:-

“This study was funded by InsideTracker. The scientists who conducted this study and prepared this manuscript are either employed by the sponsoring company (K.W., A.R., C.R., M.P., E.S., B.N., G.B.) or serve as advisors to it (D.S., D.K., J.B.). Thus, there is no separation between investigative team and funder, which provided support in the form of salaries, and was involved in the study design, data collection and analysis, decision to publish, and preparation of the manuscript.”
