

Thank you to all our reviewers in 2020

We sincerely thank the 713 reviewers who gave up their time to write peer review reports for the manuscripts submitted to Communications Earth & Environment in 2020.

Communications Earth & Environment opened for submission in February 2020. By the end of the year we had received 518 submissions, of which we sent out for review a total of 295. 713 reviewers provided review reports on these manuscripts. We would like to acknowledge the contribution each of them made to the journal. Thank you.

We are acutely aware that in the past year, under the influence of a global pandemic, it has been more difficult than ever to balance the many demands on researchers' time. We are particularly grateful to all those who nevertheless supported us and their colleagues by providing feedback on their peers' manuscripts. Complementing the introduction of our programme to acknowledge some of our outstanding reviewers on a regular basis, as outlined in an accompanying editorial, we list all our reviewers below, to acknowledge their considerable insights and input, in alphabetical order by surname. Journal staff take full responsibility for any misspellings, omissions, or other errors.
