
Foreword

Editor's note: It seems most appropriate to include, in this Silver Jubilee issue of the journal, the Foreword by Ludwig Guttmann published in Volume 1, Number 1 of the Journal, which was published by E. & S. Livingstone Ltd., Edinburgh—now Churchill Livingstone, Edinburgh. Also, for historical interest, the list of Contents of that issue are reproduced here.

Ever since the Stoke Mandeville Games—the annual sports festival of the paralysed—became an international event in 1952, Scientific Meetings have been held each year on that occasion. These gave physicians, surgeons and research workers the opportunity to exchange experiences in the intricate problems concerned with injuries and diseases of the spinal cord. As the years went by, the need to form an International Medical Society of Paraplegia became more and more manifest, and in 1961 the Society was founded.

With the formation of the Society arose a distinct desire for a journal which would serve as a structure for uniting the Society's widely scattered members and above all be designed as a central international source of information for all groups of physicians, surgeons and other scientific workers actively engaged or interested in the manifold aspects of paraplegia and quadriplegia.

Considerable advances have been made since World War II in this hitherto neglected and depressing subject, which involves so many aspects of medicine and surgery. Up till now, the steadily increasing amount of published work in this field has been scattered in many journals, making a heavy claim on the time of the reader wishing to become familiar with current literature and new developments.

It is to provide an international forum for an easy interchange of ideas for all those responsible for the welfare of our paralysed fellow-men, as well as to promote further elucidation of the many and varied aspects of this problem, that this new journal Paraplegia is dedicated. Long may it flourish!

April 1963

Ludwig Guttmann

Contents

Foreword	1
Constitution and Bye-laws of the International Medical Society of Paraplegia	2
Effect of Tilting on the Cardiovascular Responses and Plasma Catecholamine Levels in Spinal Man	4
By L. Guttmann, A. F. Munro, R. Robinson and J. J. Walsh
Causes of Death in the Early and Late Stages of Paraplegia	19
By C. R. Tribe, M.A., B.M., B.Ch., D.T.M. and H.
Decubitus Ulcer of the Heel. Report of Two Cases requiring Partial Resection of the Os Calcis	48
By Ernest Bors, M.D., D.A.B., F.A.C.S.
Entero-cytoplasty in Contracted Bladder complicated by Hydronephrosis	55
By M. G. Pelot, M.D.
Periarticular Calcification in Paraplegics: Attempted Treatment with Disodium Edetate	62
By Sedgwick Mead, M.D., Harvey D. Cain, M.D., Robert E. Kelly, M.D. and Howard Liebgold, M.D.
Abstracts of Papers read at the 1962 Scientific Meeting of the International Medical Society of Paraplegia	69
Authors of Papers: A. Grossiord and M. Maury, France; J. Benassy, France; C. R. Tribe, England; P. Harris, Scotland; M. Damanski, England; P. E. Gregoire, P. Honssa and A. Tricot, Belgium; A. Rossier, Switzerland; R. Maling, England; M. Weiss, Poland.
Announcements	80