IMPLANT TRAINING WITH A DIFFERENCE

Now in its eighth year, 'An Implant Course with a Difference' covers every aspect of modern implant dentistry, including related restorative and surgical topics.

The programme includes the delegates' treatment of their own patients, from initial planning to final prosthetics. Upon completion delegates are able to confidently assess, diagnose and treat patients requiring dental implants, within the scope of general restorative and surgical dentistry.

Course presenters Koray Feran and Sanjay Sethi have decades of experience in implant dentistry between them. Dr Feran lectures internationally and has a special interest in multidisciplinary case management. Dr Sethi runs hands-on composite courses and lectures in the UK and overseas on the restorative and aesthetic aspects of dentistry.

'An Implant Course with a Difference' will be held on nine Fridays and Saturdays between 21 September 2012 and 11 May 2013. For booking and further information contact Anai Sarkis, PA to Dr Feran, on 020 7323 3041, anai@lciad.co.uk or visit www.courses4implants.com.

AN E-CIG TO RIVAL REAL ONES

Nicolites has expanded their range of electronic cigarettes with a new addition: the smallest electronic cigarette in the world.

The biggest criticism of the Nicolite and other 'e-cigs' on the market is that whilst replicating the art of smoking so well, they are bigger and heavier than the real thing. As a result Nicolites has worked hard to produce a life-size electronic cigarette.

The latest Nicolite model is the same size as a regular cigarette and so light that you can hardly tell that it is not a real cigarette.

Furthermore, like earlier models, it still lasts for approximately as long as a box of 20 regular cigarettes.

The new mini electronic cigarette is available in four variants: Tobacco high (16 mg), Tobacco medium (11 mg), Menthol high (16 mg) and Menthol medium (11 mg).

The new model gives a great 'vapour volume', and essentially improves the overall smoking experience users get from an e-cig.

Nicolites Disposable Minis are now available from the Nicolites Shop www.nicolitesonline.co.uk and retail at £14.85 for three. Nicolites also retail their Nicolites starter kits in every Tesco Pharmacy nationwide.

INCOME PROTECTION FOR 85 YEARS

dg mutual formed on 7 June 1927 to provide income protection to dentists. Today it covers most self-employed professional occupations including solicitors and osteopaths.

As one of only nine mutual societies to offer income protection in the UK, dg mutual's Chief Executive David Thompson attributes its longevity to providing customers with the service they want. It has changed with the times by introducing new products and always acting ethically.

Earlier this year, dg mutual announced they paid out 99% of claims for the fourth year running with over 60% of claims paid out within one week and over 90% within two weeks.

For more information on dg mutual or to obtain an instant quotation, visit www.dgmutual.co.uk or telephone 0121 452 1066.
