THE SIGNIFICANCE OF BREATH

From Cicero's 'As long as I breathe, I hope' to Shakespeare's 'foul breath is noisome' the importance of breath has fascinated writers through the ages.

Around one in four adults in the UK are thought to regularly suffer from bad breath. While it may be the result or indication of an underlying medical condition, in most cases the problem originates in the oral cavity with malodorous gases known as volatile sulphur compounds (VSCs).

Bad breath can be worrying and embarrassing for sufferers. Fortunately, CB12 neutralises the VSCs that cause bad breath, rather than just masking the smell. Its unique formula is effective for up to 12 hours and helps to maintain fresh breath all day.

Helping to relieve bad breath can make a big difference to sufferers. Shakespeare, as always, puts it well: 'For this relief much thanks!'

TOP QUALITY TRAINING FOR CONSERVATIVE DENTISTRY

Sarah Farrier is the Principal Dentist of Arden House Dental in Cheltenham and she undertook the hands-on training course for the Inman Aligner in London in July 2014.

She said: 'I took the course because this sort of aesthetic dentistry sings to my heart – aligning teeth offers conservative management of malocclusions with either no prep, or subsequently less prep, giving clients the opportunity to be the best of themselves.

'Dr Tif Qureshi was an excellent instructor and explained things very well. The format of the course was very good although we had a lot to fit into the allocated time; the hands-on part was very helpful.

'The Inman Aligner cases I have started have been a real hit with patients and there is a lot of interest and excitement over what these systems can offer. I have just bought a practice and we are now able to offer the Inman Aligner and ClearSmile Aligners. Further marketing will no doubt increase the number of cases I take on and further revolutionise the type of dentistry we can offer our patients.'

The Inman Aligner and ClearSmile Aligners are provided by the IAS Academy, and all training is led by leading professionals in the field of cosmetic orthodontics.

A NEW DENTURE ADVENTURE

Wearing a partial denture almost doubles the patient's risk of losing more teeth than non partial wearers.¹

Tooth loss can have a profound effect on the lives of patients both physically and emotionally – 45% of patients experience difficulties accepting the loss of their teeth.²

As their trusted dental professional, your advice can have a huge impact on a patient's wellbeing, whilst also helping them to avoid losing more teeth.

What's more, as the population ages, and the chance of wearing a denture increases with age,³ you will be seeing more denture patients on a day-to-day basis. Within the next 35 years, it is expected there will be 2 billion people aged 60+.⁴ Are you prepared for an increasing number of denture patients in your practice?
