TURNING GOOD PRACTICES INTO GREAT BUSINESSES

Dr Aalok Y. Shukla, UK based orthodontic marketing expert and creator of 'The Straight Teeth Engine Academy', has announced the launch of his book which is set to revolutionise dental practices everywhere. 'The orthodontic blueprint: The ultimate guide on how to build your automated practice and get your freedom back' has been created exclusively for dentists and orthodontists who are looking to increase productivity and grow their practice using the latest digital marketing and automation technologies by educating more people about the benefits of teeth straightening.

The brand new book empowers passionate dentists to reinvent their existing practice, using a number of cutting-edge business strategies to boost productivity and increase success.

'The orthodontic blueprint' promises to:

- Enable dentists to reconnect with the passion for their profession and concentrate on delivering transformative solutions for more patients

- Provide dentists with the strategies needed to do more orthodontic treatments daily
- Share the procedures on how to automate your marketing system so it works without fail to bring in new braces patients daily.
