with the BDA

For the first time, the BDA is introducing its own qualifications in oral health education and radiography.

Having successfully delivered online courses in oral health education (OHE) and Radiography to over 4,000 dental care professionals (DCPs) since 2006, British Dental Association (BDA) Education is now pleased to announce the delivery of its own qualifications in both OHE and Radiography. These cost-effective, accessible and practical qualifications will enable you to develop your knowledge, skills and experience and take your career to the next level.

If you are a busy working DCP who wants to manage your own learning and complete your work at your own pace, with the confidence that a dedicated and knowledgeable team is behind you every step of the way, then turn to BDA Education. BDA Education's online courses have provided students with access to tuition from the leading experts in their fields.

Studying with BDA Education will help you to gain the tools you need to progress your career, without unnecessary stress or complications. Using a sophisticated e-learning system, you will have access to a series of comprehensive online modules, supplemented by revision notes, self-assessments and mock exams, which you can complete at your own pace, in the knowledge that a friendly and personable team is ready to answer your phone call or email to help you with any questions you might have. BDA Education is on your side and want to help you succeed! As one previous student wrote: 'An excellent course, extremely well organised and run. Extremely convenient and essential for dental nurses like myself wishing to further their career but whose commitments do not permit attendance at college for classes.'

You are required to complete coursework as part of both courses. All the practical work is relevant to practice and can be completed as part of your working day. You can record your work on convenient and accessible forms, which are supplied to you as part of the course. Feedback is regularly provided to help you complete the practical work so that you can enjoy your work and feel confident and secure in the knowledge that you are making good progress. Any questions? Just drop the team an email or pick up the phone. There is always someone ready and happy to help!

So what about the exam?

After having completed the online revision course, you will be ready to take the exam. The exams are held online too so there will be no need to spend money and time travelling to an exam centre, finding the location and organising accommodation. You can take the exam from the comfort of your own home on a PC. You will receive your results and feedback two weeks later. On completion, you will be awarded a certificate and a badge and you can add to your CV the fact that you are a qualified oral health educator and/or dental radiography operator.

Interested in enhancing your career prospects, by taking a no-fuss, engaging and interesting course with the support of a friendly and knowledgeable team?
